THE SECRETARY OF STATE
WASHINGTON

October 13, 1923.

My dear Mr. Bloomfield:

Pardon my delay in answering your letter of October fifth. I shall be glad to see you whenever you come to Washington and I suggest that when you happen to be here you call up the office and make an appointment. If you wish <sup>me now</sup> to make a definite appointment, I would say Wednesday noon, October seventeenth.

Very sincerely yours,

Charles S. Hughes.

Meyer Bloomfield, Esquire,
6. Beacon Street,
Boston, Mass.
