ROXBURY, MASS. April 23 1907.

My dear Mr. Bloomfield, - This Mr. Mazur called on me last night on other business. But he said that if he could see you or you would see him he thought
there would be no difficulty in addressing adjusting a certain strike of cloak makers.

I know nothing about it, but I did not hesitate to say that I would tell you what he said

Truly yours.

Dear Mr. Blowfill:

I cannot make any appointments for Sunday evening meetings.

In this case I do
not know enough about the subject to speak

Truly ds

E. E. Hale

You will find me here
almost any afternoon after 3.30
